

South City Delights Governor Stephens

PRAISES INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES HERE

South San Francisco has won the heart of Governor William D. Stephens. California's chief executive officer carried away with him the "key" to this city. Other communities entertained him, but South City delighted the distinguished guest.

The visit of the Governor to San Mateo county was a great success to the county in general, but it was a special success to South San Francisco.

The presentation of the city's key at the Peninsula Hotel luncheon instantly warmed and won the esteem and admiration of Governor Stephens. The trip to the industrial center of South San Francisco did the rest.

The honored guest spent Monday and Tuesday in this county, the program of the second day consisting of a visit to the coastside after being domiciled for the night in the bridal suite at the Peninsula Hotel.

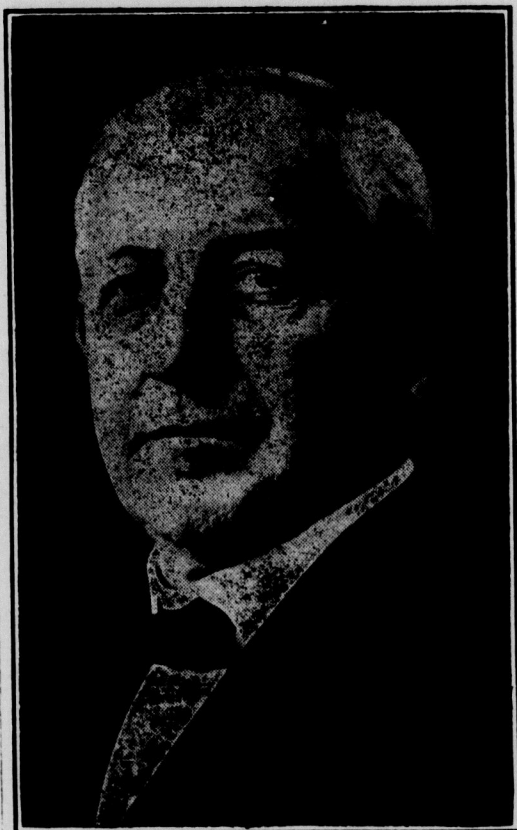

The Governor arrived in San Mateo county early Monday and was first brought to the Peninsula Hotel in San Mateo, where a luncheon was served under the auspices of the San Mateo Chamber of Commerce. Owing to the fact that his train was delayed, he reached the ferry building about an hour late, and was greeted there by Senator M. B. Johnson, County Clerk Joseph H. Nash and Frank L. Ekward, assemblyman and secretary of the County Development Association, which was instrumental in bringing the Governor here. The Governor and his party were motored down the Peninsula by E. W. Florence of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

While en route to the hotel the Governor's party was met here by the South City delegation, who joined the party. About ten motor cars carried South City citizens to the hotel. White badges of the Manufacturers' Association were pinned on the coat lapels of the local reception committee. The badges distinguished the South City contingent at the luncheon from members of other communities. This city furnished about one-third of the guests at the luncheon, making a remarkable showing.

Arriving at the Peninsula Hotel they were greeted by about one hundred citizens from all parts of the county, who had gathered to extend a cordial welcome to the state's chief executive. A sumptuous luncheon, consisting almost entirely of San Mateo county products, had been prepared by the hotel management, and, at its conclusion, President E. R. Dixon of the San Mateo Chamber of Commerce spoke a few words welcoming the distinguished visitor to San Mateo, and then called upon Vice-President J. E. McCurdy, who also extended a cordial greeting on behalf of the people of this community.

W. J. Martin of South San Francisco was the next speaker, and in his own inimitable way he told the Governor of the hospitable welcome awaiting him in South San Francisco, and concluded by turning over to Mr. Stephens a key to this city. The key had been made especially for the occasion by the Manufacturers' Association of South City.

In responding to the speeches of welcome, the Governor thanked the people of the county for the cordial greeting extended him, congratulated the Chamber of Commerce upon its fine representation at the luncheon, and paid a pretty compliment to the ladies, of whom there were about half a dozen present. He also explained that he was more than interested in seeing San Mateo county owing to the legislation affecting this district which had come before him at the close of the last legislature. The Governor spoke briefly, and remarked that he would talk at greater length when he visited Redwood City in the evening.

There was no delaying after the

SOUTH CITY KEY WINS GOVERNOR HANDIWORK OF MANY FACTORIES DELIGHTS

Acting for the Manufacturers' Association of South San Francisco, W. J. Martin presented Governor William D. Stephens with a "key" to this city at the popular luncheon held at the Peninsula Hotel, San Mateo, Monday, in honor of the distinguished guest.

The key, about 9 inches long, is incased in marble.

The following is a description of the handiwork of the key, which delighted and won the Governor's heart:

Made from pipe furnished by the Schaw-Batcher Company, welded to piece of bar steel made by the Pacific Coast Steel Company, in furnace built of brick supplied by Steiger Terra Cotta and Pottery Works. Bar flattened by Coast Foundry Company and welded to pipe by Enterprise Foundry Company. Turned and lathed by Pacific Car and Equipment Company and tagged with wooden tag made by the South San Francisco Lumber and Supply Company. Tag joined to key by strand of wire from the E. H. Edwards Company, wire rope works. Set in case made by the American Marble and Mosaic Company, and decorated under a Prest-O-Lite by the W. P. Fuller Company, with paint whose base is barium supplied by the American Barium Company. The product of the combined factories of South City, all of whose power is supplied by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and a "Labor of Love" by the South City workmen, who keep fit for their daily tasks by using as a part of their food the products of the Western Meat Company and the Growers' Rice Milling Company.

luncheon, as the Governor and his party left immediately for South San Francisco, escorted by a big delegation from the industrial town. Arriving at South City, they first went to the Pacific Coast Steel Company's immense plant, where they were shown about by Works Superintendent N. A. Becker.

At present the steel works are be-

COMPLAINT AGAINST HIGH FREIGHT RATES

Rate Expert R. P. Thompson of the Pacific Coast Steel Company and Executive Secretary Edward Curley of the Manufacturers' Association of South San Francisco appeared before the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday night in connection with the complaint now being drawn for the State Railroad Commission in the battle for lower switching rates on the San Francisco Peninsula.

The complaint against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company is to be filed shortly.

JUDGE WILSON ASKED TO STATE STEEL POLICY

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting, Tuesday, the secretary was authorized to write a letter to Judge Wilson, head of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, requesting him to state what the definite policy of the company is as far as it concerns South San Francisco.

It is understood that Judge Wilson in his reply will tell that the policy is favorable to the community.

The purpose is to set at rest certain rumors concerning the plant that appear from time to time.

Various Chowders.

PARSNIP CHOWDER.—Cut up three medium sized parsnips in quarter inch pieces, put on to boil in a quart of boiling water with a slice of bacon chopped fine after cooking twenty minutes. Pour into this a pint of scalded milk, salt and pepper to taste, also dash of celery salt. Make a thickening of two tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half cupful of water. Let boil three minutes after putting in this.

Corn Chowder.—Fry two slices of salt pork, in the fat of which fry until a light yellow two sliced onions; add boiling water and about three pints of sliced potatoes. Cook until potatoes are nearly done, then add one can of corn and one pint of milk; season with salt, pepper and small piece of butter; let boil up once or twice and set on back of stove to keep hot. Long cooking makes corn hard and tough. Serve oyster crackers with the chowder. You can make clam, oyster and fish chowder in the same way, using one pint of clams or oysters or two and one-half pounds of fresh cod or haddock. With the fish or clam chowder use common crackers, splitting and wetting them in cold water, before laying them over top of chowder, to soften.

Clam Chowder.—One can of clams and about six good sized potatoes; fry two or three slices of fat pork in a kettle, take out the pork and cut up a small onion; fry in the fat, but watch so it will not brown too much; chop the potatoes about like dice, also chop clams. After onions are fried put in a layer of potatoes, then one of clams, sprinkle pepper and salt, then cut up some of the pork into small pieces and put in, then another of potatoes and clams until all are used; then add the clam liquor and as much water as will more than cover them; cook twenty minutes or until potatoes are done. Just before serving add a pint of milk; let boil up and serve with crackers.

Vegetable Chowder.—Two cupfuls potatoes, two cupfuls carrots, two cupfuls onions, one cupful celery, two cupfuls milk, one cupful tomatoes, one teaspoonful butter, one teaspoonful flour, two teaspoonfuls finely cut parsley, one-eighth teaspoonful white pepper or paprika, one cupful bread crumbs, one teaspoonful salt. Wash, pare and dice the carrots, put in saucepan and cover with boiling water, pare and cut onions and add at once. Boil thirty minutes and add potatoes, celery and tomatoes; boil until carrots are very tender (the water will have boiled down to three cupfuls), add the milk, butter and flour, which have been rubbed together; boil three minutes, add salt, pepper and parsley. Serve with bread croutons.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story—

WHAT HAPPENED
TO A TIN SOLDIER

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen]

WHEN daddy finished his smoke he began: "It is a terrifying experience to be in a small boat and get swirled along till you are dumped in a canal. That is what happened to a little tin soldier, my dears."

"The little boat swirled around three times and filled with water to its edge. It had to sink. The little tin soldier stood up to his neck in water, and his boat sank deeper and deeper. The paper under him became limper and limper, and at last the water went over his head."

"Just then he thought of the pretty little dancer whom he loved and was never to see again, and this bit of a song kept running through his head:

"Onward, onward, soldier,
For death thou canst not shun!"

"This cheered him up a whole lot, but at last the paper under him gave way entirely, and the little tin soldier fell through. But at the same moment he was swallowed by a big fish."

"Oh, how dark it was inside the fish! It was even worse than sailing through a big dark tunnel. And it was so narrow too. But the little tin soldier was as dauntless as ever and lay full length inside the fish and shouldered his gun."

"The fish rushed about like anything and made the most frantic movements. Probably the little tin soldier scratched the inside of his stomach. At last the fish became quiet, and after awhile a flash like lightning pierced it. The little tin soldier once more came out into daylight, and somebody shouted loudly, 'A little tin soldier!'"

"You see, the fish had been caught on a hook, taken to market, sold and brought into a kitchen where a cook had cut it open with a sharp knife."

"The cook picked up the tin soldier by the middle of his waist with her two fingers and carried him into the parlor, where everybody wanted to see the wonderful little man who had been traveling about inside a fish's stomach. But the little tin soldier wasn't at all proud of his adventure. He would much rather have been lying behind a snuffbox looking straight at the little dancer who had but one leg apparently, just like himself. But then a soldier must do as the powers above him dictate, you know. Anyway, he tried to behave as politely and soldier-like as possible when he was handed about to be looked at because he had been swallowed by a fish," daddy ended the story.

"Thank you, daddy!" cried the children.

"The Weakness of Man," Bill at Royal Next Tuesday

The greater love of man is the theme of the new Holbrook Blinn World Film feature, which will be the attraction at the Royal Theatre on Tuesday evening, July 17th. Although not a wholly happy ending motion picture, it is nevertheless a very gripping and interest-absorbing film play, teaching a great moral. "The Weakness of Man," as it is called, stands out as a distinct Holbrook Blinn achievement in comparison to other feature or near feature films. It is in five parts, directed by Barry O'Neil and staged with great precision in an entirely appropriate and befitting atmosphere.

Our Switching Limits

The Southern Pacific Company refuses to extend our switching limits to South San Francisco, and we predict that those responsible for their refusal will profoundly regret it before long. It is such things in past years which created the indignation and public hatred of this company—and others—which led to the drastic regulation under which the railroad companies now operate, and which is in some respects injuring the public far more than the railroads. We had supposed that the present managers of our railroads were trying to live down their old reputations.

The whole matter will now come before the Railroad Commission, which will be more likely than otherwise to open the entire subject of switching in this industrial district on both sides of the bay.

Municipal limits have no relation whatever to switching districts, as the evidence before the Railroad Commission will certainly show.

A proper switching limit is the end of a recognized industrial or commercial district. In New York it includes not only switching but lighterage—and it may do so here before we get through. It is certain that the industrial districts on both sides of the bay will demand to be put on an equality with industrial districts elsewhere in the country.

And certainly the Southern Pacific Company has no right to discriminate in favor of the transbay industrial district and against one on this side.

And none know better than the Southern Pacific officials that their claim that they had to grant an extension in Oakland in order to get a desired franchise is mere pretense. Not only are railroads forbidden to voluntarily discriminate, but they cannot be bribed to discriminate.

If the case is presented to the commission with the vigor which it presumably will be, the Southern Pacific officials, if we are not mistaken, will wish they had granted the reasonable request of our people.—San Francisco Chronicle.

At last, however, the war has been brought home to us. General Goethals and Chairman Denman do not speak.

Congress should not worry. The mentally deficient are exempted from the draft.

A spaceogram from hell reports the devil in a blue funk. Afraid the kaiser will steal his laurels away from him.

A "friend" met us on the street the other day and stopped for a chat. Complimented us on our newsy paper—and we handed him a cigar. Praised our stand on food control—another smoke. Said our editorial page was becoming a strong feature of the paper—two more smokes. Praised us for aiding the liberty loan—an ice cream. Dug us in the ribs and said our wife must be feeding us well—and we collapsed. Subscription books show him four years in arrears. No, we are not hankering to meet any more "friends."

The Haig "peace" arguments are calculated to convince Kaiser Bill of his error in flouting The Hague peace agreements.

Yes, about everybody in this community (yourself excepted) has told us what to put in this paper, and what not to put in it; how to say it, and how not to; when to publish it, and when not to; who to boost, and who to knock. And, being an obliging cuss, we do just as we darned please. Wouldn't you?

You can always tell a henpecked man by his blustering air when at a safe distance from his wife. And now we'll catch it for "spilling the beans" when we get home.

According to Barnum, one is born every minute. And we can readily believe it when we read of sheriff's sending militiamen into the heart of a bloody riot with strict orders not to shoot.

There's a loophole, Jimmy, whereby you may escape the draft. The morally unfit will not be accepted.

It is openly charged in congress that the Council of National Defense is letting contracts for war supplies to its own members at exorbitant prices. But what else is to be expected when the council is composed of the very men who control the output of this country?

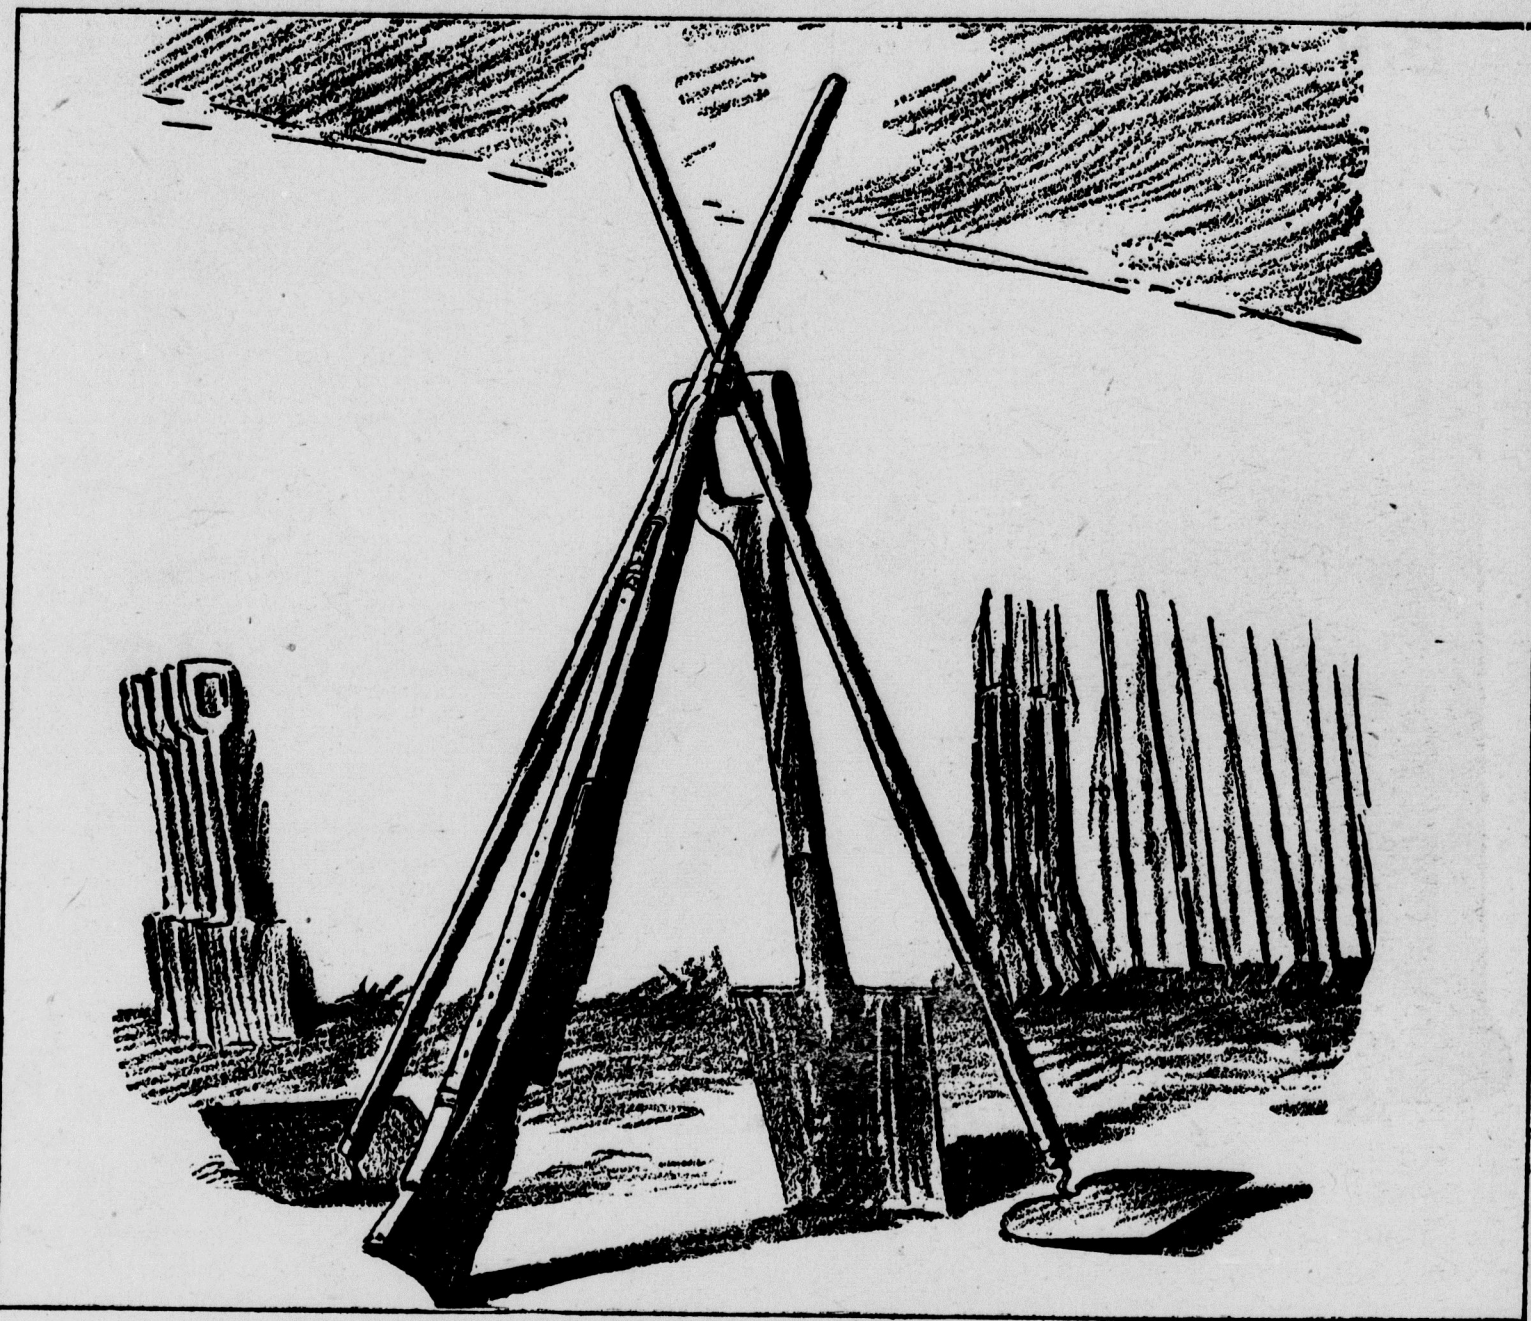

With some people patriotism begins in one pocket and ends in the other. The Council of National Defense, for instance.

GOVERNOR STEPHENS' VISIT.

ing operated night and day, and more than 800 men are employed there. The visitors were shown all through the vast plant, and were immensely interested in seeing the red-hot metal being handled in the rolling mill. The factory is now engaged in filling a big government contract for submarine parts and steel for shrapnel, and it was an interesting sight indeed to see huge quantities of scrap iron poured into the melting pot at one end of the plant and come out as finished steel at the other end. The visitors were surprised to learn that, owing to the skill required in the steel workers' craft, some of the men are paid as high as $20 and $25 a day.

The Governor was next taken to the Edwards wire works near by, where he was shown about by E. H. Edwards. One of the interesting sights here was a machine turning out wire netting.

The Schaw-Batcher Pipe Company's plant was next visited, and the Governor was escorted about the plant by Charles L. Moorman, vice-president of the company. At this factory a large force of men was busily engaged in turning out all kinds of pipe, from ordinary stovepipe to the heaviest kind of boiler pipe made to withstand enormous pressure.

The huge plant of the Western Meat Company was next seen, and the different departments were inspected under the guidance of F. L. Washburn, president, and J. O. Snyder, superintendent. Several hundred workmen of the plant assembled in front of the engine room to greet the Governor. Mr. Washburn introduced Governor Stephens with a few well placed remarks, to which the Governor responded, confining his points to the achievements of "men who accomplish things." He was loudly cheered.

Next came the W. P. Fuller paint works, where all the different operations were explained in detail.

The American Marble and Mosaic works were next inspected. Several marble pillars for the National Bank of Oregon were seen in the process of making. There are sixty-five pillars being made, at a cost of $350 each.

The Governor expressed great surprise at the magnitude of the South San Francisco factory district, and said he had never realized how many different kinds of manufacturing enterprises were located there. But the Governor was not the only one surprised, as many citizens of San Mateo county who were in the party were visiting the factories for the first time, and were amazed to see the full extent of the industrial operations.

At night Governor Stephens was Redwood City's guest, and the people of the county seat turned out en masse to meet him. Following the meeting at the Sequoia Theatre, which was packed to the doors to hear the Governor speak, Mr. Stephens was brought back to San Mateo and spent the night at the Peninsula Hotel.

PLANTING SPINACH.

A Favorite Crop Grown For Greens, and All Gardeners Should Plant It.

Spinach is perhaps the most favorite crop grown for greens, and every home gardener should plant it. Around Norfolk, Va., and to the south of it large areas are cut at any time through the winter when the fields are not frozen or covered with snow. North of the latitude of Norfolk spinach can be planted in the autumn and carried over the winter by mulching with straw or leaves. The seed should be sown in drills one foot apart at the rate of one ounce to 100 feet of row, or ten to twelve pounds per acre. A rich loam is required for success.

There is perhaps no other garden crop which gives as much satisfaction as spinach. Ordinarily it occupies the land during the autumn and winter and does not interfere therefore with the production of summer vegetables. Three or four ounces of seed planted in the autumn after the summer crop has been harvested will produce an abundance of greens for the average family during the late autumn and early spring. In gathering spinach the entire plant is removed instead of merely cutting off the leaves. By selecting the larger plants first the smaller or later ones are given room to develop. This method does away with the necessity of thinning.

COUNTY NEWS IN BRIEF

Chronicle of Peninsula Events for Week

SUBMARINE CHASE.

Sedley C. Peck, who left San Mateo more than a month ago as a member of the second Stanford ambulance unit to serve on the French front, was on the ship Espagne, south of England, when it was attacked by a submarine, but the French gunners were successful in raining shells about the undersea monster until it thought best to submerge and beat a retreat. On the vessel at the time were Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt of New York City.

MENLO PARK TROOPS.

Coast Artillery troops are now at Menlo Park preparing the ground for the big National Guard encampment which is to be located there. A company of engineers is surveying the tract and laying out the five-mile belt railroad and the several miles of sidetrack which are to be constructed. The government announces that the first men to go into training at the Menlo Park cantonment will be the Twentieth division of the National Guard, including the state troops of Washington, Oregon and California, who will be called into service on August 5th.

NOTED GIRL GOLFISS.

Miss Edith S. Chesebrough of Hillsborough will play in the women's national golf championship this fall. The event will be held during the first week of October, and the Hillsborough player will probably go east two weeks ahead of time in order to have some practice on the links.

F. L. Spitts and Al Myatt, both of Hollister, the former being an owner of a saloon and garage and the latter his employee, were slightly injured when the new roadster in which they were traveling and a jitney bus crashed on the state highway near Baldwin avenue in San Mateo. Both cars were put out of commission.

EXEMPTION COMMISSION.

The San Mateo county exemption board has announced that it will use the supervisors' assembly room on the second floor of the courthouse, Redwood City, for holding the examinations under the army draft.

EXEMPTION MEDIC.

Dr. N. D. Morrison of San Mateo has been the only physician in San Mateo county named so far to serve on the government exemption boards. Morrison will serve on the board for exemption district No. 3, in San Francisco. Charles M. Richards of San Jose is the physician appointed for the San Mateo county exemption board.

CHINESE AVIATOR.

L. Yip, a Chinese student at the Christofferson aviation school in Redwood City, was seriously injured when his Curtiss biplane crashed into a high-tension power line near the aviation field. The accident occurred about 7:45 o'clock, and Yip was removed to the Redwood City hospital, where he was unconscious for some time.

FINE CONSUL $5.

Felix Caldero Avila, acting consul, consulate general of Guatemala, stationed in San Francisco, was fined $5 by City Recorder Carl W. Elfving for violating the traffic law in San Mateo and talking in an impertinent manner to Chief of Police Thomas F. Burke.

GOES TO FRANCE.

Arnold Ach, chauffeur for W. B. Bourn, president of the Spring Valley Water Company, who resides at a palatial home on the banks of Crystal Springs Lake, back of San Mateo, departed for New York City to leave for the French war front, where he will drive an ambulance in the hospital corps. Bourn purchased the ambulance for Ach and presented him with a fund to pay his expenses to the war zone.

RODENTS BUBONIC.

That ground squirrels in the vicinity of Palo Alto and Menlo Park have a bacillus infection which is causing bubonic plague among animals, is revealed by state health officers who have charge of animal inspection. This information was received through Major James R. Pourie, who is in charge of the artillery companies now in Palo Alto.

TWO MEN DROWN.

Two San Francisco men were struck by a huge wave and dashed off a rock on the coastside of San Mateo county, near Farallone, late Sunday afternoon, and their two companions departed without recovering the bodies or even reporting the tragedy to the county authorities. The victims of the tragedy were W. Cassell and Thomas Clancy.

SECRET MARRIAGE.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mabel Cartwright, daughter of Mrs. M. Cartwright of Howard avenue, in Burlingame, to William Sheehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan, also of Burlingame.

The ceremony was performed in San Rafael last March, and has been kept secret by the young couple until now.

AUTO COLLISION.

The other evening at 8:30 o'clock a roadster, driven by B. Fountain, accompanied by his wife, collided with a touring car belonging to Police Judge Oppenheimer of San Francisco at Lomita Park. The Oppenheimer car was far to the right side of the road, while the roadster was clear out of its legal territory. Both occupants of the small car were in an intoxicated condition, the police say. No one was seriously injured, though Mrs. Fountain was taken to the South San Francisco hospital by Officer Meehan of San Bruno.

Wilkins, for many years an official of the post-office and treasury departments at Washington. Each of the contracting parties is 63 years of age, according to the marriage license issued.

PATRIOTISM

BY
"SIR WALTER SCOTT"

Breathes there the man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well;
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim,
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentered all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored, and unsung.

RED CROSS SUPPLY OF COUNTY TO BE USED FOR OWN BOYS

By MARY GERVAIS
Chairman Burlingame Unit of the San Mateo Red Cross Chapter.

It has been definitely decided that the material and supplies from the San Mateo chapter of the American Red Cross are to be used in the University of California base hospital in San Francisco. This means that these supplies will be used for our own boys from in and around the bay cities. This makes a more personal interest in the work, and it is hoped that any who have been holding back in their offers of assistance until something more definite was known, will now come forward and give of their time and strength in the preparation of this material. Sixty thousand articles—surgical dressings—are ready for shipment to this hospital from San Mateo county as soon as they are needed.

There is no doubt that more serious attention should be paid by the women of the community to the necessity of the training in first aid and hygiene. They are taking the nurses from the hospitals here, and who are to take their places, or to assist those who will be left? In one base hospital in France, of 150 beds, it takes fifty women a day (not nurses) to supply the surgical dressings. This is work that may be needed right here at home. Inform yourself as to the crying need along this line.

Those who desire to knit for the soldiers may attend classes of instruction in the workrooms of the Red Cross. Sweaters, helmets, wristlets and scarves are needed. Come and help.

William Best Jr. and Hugh Mullen of Burlingame gave an entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross, consisting of a moving picture show and several other features, and netted $10.

The children of the Methodist church, Burlingame, have sent a donation of $14 to the Red Cross Society. These entertainments, coming so soon after the Red Cross drive, certainly show that the people of the community have formed the habit of giving, and giving generously, to the Red Cross.

Several women are planning a "Lavender Day" some time in August for the sale of lavender bags, and they request that any one having lavender growing in their garden cut the flowers, dry and strip the stalks, and send the flowers to Mrs. C. J. Wellman, 54 Bellevue avenue, San Mateo Park, phone 1299J, to be made up into bags. These will be sold on the state highway where the flower sales have been held.

TANFORAN FAVORED AS ARMY DRILL GROUND

Tanforan Park probably will be the drill ground of the field artillery batteries of the National Guard.

Fred Hussey, appointed to look up a camp site for the organization, has inspected the park, and reported that it was a satisfactory location.

The park is particularly adapted as a site for sham battles.

SUPERVISORS CALL BIDS FOR SKYLINE BOULEVARD

The Board of Supervisors has called for bids for the construction of another one-half mile of the skyline boulevard. The call for bids provides for grading and construction of culverts. The stretch to be built will be a half-mile extension of the piece of road recently completed by Contractor McEvoy. Bids will be received up to August 6th.

ARMY ENCAMPMENT FOR SAN MATEO COUNTY; NOW FINAL EDICT

San Mateo county wins the big army cantonment! Official announcement has been made that the encampment is to be made at Menlo Park, instead of on the Stanford property at Palo Alto. The camp site will be located west of the state highway, between Menlo Park and the San Franciscoquito creek, and extending back as far as Holy Cross cemetery.

The decision to change the location of the camp buildings was made late on Saturday. Already every available store and house in Menlo Park has been rented for army purposes. Duff & Doyle's hall, over the grocery store, has been leased as a headquarters for the officers.

Although the camp itself will be located in San Mateo county, the ground to be used for drills and maneuvers remains the same as originally announced, and consists of 1000 acres in San Mateo and Santa Clara counties. It extends back as far as Woodside and Portola, and takes in some of the Spring Valley property.

The location of the camp headquarters at Menlo Park instead of near Mayfield means that San Mateo county will reap untold benefits. Menlo Park and Redwood City especially will profit immensely by the bringing here of between 30,000 and 50,000 men.

Mr. Swift has been looking over his interests at South San Francisco for the last several days. An excerpt from an article in the San Francisco Chronicle follows:

"Louis F. Swift, head of the Chicago packing house of Swift & Co., and representing the millions of allied capital in the hands of the Chicago packers, is visiting South San Francisco to determine what will be done with the Swift holdings of tide lands.

"The Swifts already have spent $100,000 in a canal project which reclaims some of the vast tide lands investment of that concern, but which has been a failure in so far as the tide has washed in and partially filled the twelve-foot channel.

"Something must be done again to reclaim the tide lands and channel and put the plant of the Western Meat Company on a tidewater basis.

"At 9 o'clock Thursday morning, Swift met W. J. Martin of South San Francisco, head of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company, which is a Swift concern, and carefully considered several plans."
